(By Telegram to Virginian-Pilot.)
Kinston, N. C., Sept. 12.—This morning about 8:30 the through freight on the Atlantic and North Carolina railroad was wrecked about two miles from here by an overloaded car of brick giving way in the center of the train.

No one on the train received serious injuries. A few cars were smashed and piled up over the track, and the rails were somewhat upset, but in an hour or two the smash-up will be cleared away so the other trains can pass all right.

THE TEXAS HURRICANE.

RAGED WITH FURY IN NEW FOUNDLAND YESTERDAY.

(By Telegram to Virginian-Pilot.)
St. John's, N. C., Sept. 13.—The Texas hurricane reached here last night and is raging with full fury this evening. It has swept the coast, wrecking many fishing places. Numerous schooners have been driven ashore near St. John's and the telegraph wires in remote localities are down. It is not known how much damage has been done at distant points, but it is believed the storm must have played havoc among the fishing vessels. The Grand Banks, as the wind has blown from every quarter of the compass within the last twenty-four hours.

Lancashire Cotton Trade.

(By Telegram to Virginian-Pilot.)
Manchester, Sept. 13.—The prospects of the Lancashire cotton trade for the year to come are regarded as gloomy. In addition to the reported smallness of the new crop there is a special reason for reducing the output, namely, that India and China, owing to famine, have not consumed the usual quantity of cotton goods, heavy stocks of which are on hand there.

The stoppage has already had a serious effect on the Burnley weaving trade. To-day mills representing 2,500 looms stopped and there is every indication of a wholesale stoppage for the next two months.

Value of Man's Life.

The Supreme Courts have recently been busy with a curious question—that of deciding the value of a man's life. The decision reached was that the life of the average man is worth just what his is able to earn. A man's earnings depend to a great extent upon his physical health, and it is always within his power to improve his condition. The stomach is the measure of health and strength. Every man may be brought, active and happy, if his digestion is normal. If it is not, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters will make it so. It puts the digestive organs in condition to properly digest and assimilate food. Try it for constipation, indigestion, dyspepsia, biliousness, liver or kidney troubles. It cures stomach ailments for the past fifty years, and there is nothing just as good. The genuine has our Private Revenue Stamp over the neck of the bottle.

LILLIAN CLAYTON JEWETT.

NOT ALLOWED TO ADDRESS BAPTIST NEGROES.

(By Telegram to Virginian-Pilot.)
Richmond, Va., Sept. 13.—Miss Lillian Clayton Jewett succeeded in creating a sensation at the meeting of the National Baptist Association here to-day, and insisted on speaking despite the refusal of the ministers and delegates to endorse her.

Just as the morning session was being brought to a close, Miss Jewett, who occupied a seat in the gallery, arose and began to address the meeting. Her remarks were prefaced by the words: "Ladies and gentlemen," and she went on to say that she was the friend and champion of the negro race, although the convention had refused to accord her the privilege of the floor to deliver her address.

Continuing, she said she was on the soil of Virginia, and would speak. She asked all to follow her into the street in front of the church, and said that she would there address them. She declared that she would speak, even if the people wanted to lynch her for so doing.

At this point an attempt was made by a member of the convention to raise the hymn, "The Lord's Prayer," but the president called him to order, and stated in a few words that it was not the desire of the convention to take any part in Miss Jewett's movements. Miss Jewett left the gallery and went out into the street, which was packed. Standing in a carriage, she spoke for about ten minutes on her usual theme, "Anti-lynching." Then she shook hands all around and the negroes pressing forward to greet her.

The following statement was given out to-day:

"Miss Lillian Clayton Jewett, the anti-lynching agitator of Boston, will not address the National Baptist Convention, which is now in session in the Fifth Street Baptist Church, of which I am the pastor. We cannot afford to indulge any one in remarks that would tend to mar the present relations that now exist between the white and colored people of this city and State."

(Signed) "W. F. GRAHAM."

A committee, consisting of Rev. C. R. Morris, of Boston, Mass.; Revs. Adams, William H. Stewart and Rev. W. F. Graham, pastor of the Fifth Street Baptist Church, was appointed to write Miss Jewett and tell her not to speak before the convention. This committee performed its duty.

Fev. Graham said that it had been decided best not to even have Miss Jewett introduced, as she might attempt to say something and say too much.

ROOSEVELT'S TOUR.

SPOKE YESTERDAY IN SOUTH DAKOTA.

(By Telegram to Virginian-Pilot.)
Watertown, S. D., Sept. 13.—The first stop of the special train in bearing the Roosevelt party, after leaving Brookings this morning, was made at Castlehead, where Governor Roosevelt made a brief address. Watertown was the next stop. Here an outdoor meeting was held and Governor Roosevelt spoke at some length. Governor Roosevelt said, in part:

"I would like to discuss not only the serious questions of free silver, of trusts, the tariff, orderly preservation of law and upholding of the flag, but I would like to discuss even the opera bouffe questions of militarism and imperialism presented by our opponents. Certain of our Democratic friends have the audacity to say that they represent the principles of the founders of the Republican party of long ago. If they had any feeling or a drop of the blood that ran in the veins of the great original statesman who conducted the country through the four years of civil war, and then gave up his life that his country might live, they would turn with indignation from the stage where the candidate of Democracy speaks to those nominating him about the conduct of the government as regards the Philippine Islands. I feel that one of the chief chances of his election and absolute triumph of his party consists in nullifying the doctrine in some of the Southern States which Lincoln gave his life to free."

THE SYMPATHY OF FRANCE.

THE HEART OF THE NATION TOUCHED BY TEXAS HORROR.

(By Telegram to Virginian-Pilot.)
Washington, Sept. 13.—The following telegrams have passed between the Presidents of France and the United States:

Rambouillet, France, Sept. 12, 1900.—To His Excellency the President of the United States: The news of the disaster which has just devastated the State of Texas has deeply moved me. The sentiments of traditional friendship which unite the two republics can leave no doubt in your mind concerning the very sincere share that France, President, the government of the republic and the whole nation take in the calamity that has proved such a cruel ordeal for so many families in the thousands.

France, as well as in the joy of the American people. I take it to heart to tender to Your Excellency our most heartfelt condolences, and to send to the families of the victims the expression of my afflicted sympathy.

(Signed) EMILE LOUBET.

Executive Mansion, Washington, D. C., Sept. 13.—His Excellency, Emile Loubet, President, of the French Republic, Rambouillet, France: I hasten to express in the name of the thousands who have suffered by the disaster of Texas, as well as in behalf of the whole American people, heartfelt thanks for your touching message of sympathy and condolence.

(Signed) WILLIAM M'KINLEY.

The President in Ohio.

(By Telegram to Virginian-Pilot.)
Canton, O., Sept. 13.—President and Mrs. McKinley arrived in Canton shortly before 6 o'clock this evening in a special train from Somerset. They have no definite plans, but expect to remain here for some time. There was no demonstration here, but many points along the line the President was cheered.

During the stop at Johnstown some one in the crowd called out: "Major, what are you going to do with us the next four years?" "The President smiled and replied: "It is more important for you to know what you are going to do with me the next four years."

"We are going to stand by you," was the rejoinder, and the crowd shouted its approval of this last remark.

Resignation of Gen. Botha.

(By Telegram to Virginian-Pilot.)
Lourenzo Marques, Sept. 13.—Mr. Kruger telegraphed his wife to join him before sailing, but she has replied that her health will not permit her.

It is reported that Commandant General Botha has resigned the chief command of the Transvaal forces to Commandant Viljoen.

AN ENGLISH AUTHORESS' POSES

Prove Rather Daunting to Her Unaffected American Visitors.

Now and then stories have come across the sea to the effect that Mrs. Humphry Ward is deficient in humor. To be sure, her books would not lead one to expect any particularly hilarious quality to be part of her make up. But lately, says the Junior Munsey, the rumor has been blown over that she is given to an elaboration in entertainment which would better befit a new brewer baronet than the creator of Marcella and other democratic characters.

For instance, an American woman who went armed with introductions to her was invited out to her place. Dropping down to the drawing room to tea, the visitor found her hostess a vision a la Gainsborough, in a big, plumed hat and an elaborate frock. Mrs. Ward explained, as she poured the tea, that she had been out in her garden gathering flowers. She had evidently attained herself for the part of a part according to the Watteau shepherdess standard rather than that of the modern Englishwoman.

Another party of Americans, invited to lunch at her place, were properly impressed by the fact that there was one liveried serving man for every two guests at the simple noonday repast, and that it lasted until almost dinner time. The same people, lunching with the Bryces of "American Commonwealth" fame, a few days later, were amused at the contrast. There was a pleasing absence of formality, and half the time Mr. Bryce went to the sideboard himself for what he wanted.

BERKLEY NEWS AND ADVERTISEMENTS

LAYING THE SWITCH.

Norfolk & Southern Railroad Begins Work on Reservation.

Berkley Citizens Want a Telegraph Office

Colored Man Loses an Arm—Finger Cut Off—Other Notes of Interest Related in Small Space.

The Norfolk and Southern Railroad began laying their switch across Liberty street into the government reservation yesterday evening, and had a large force of men at work, so it can be completed at once, to avoid retarding the main line.

Branches off from the main line between Chestnut and Liberty streets and crosses Liberty street in front of Mr. L. W. Wingfield's residence, and across the corner of the company's property, then across Liberty street. The track will probably be laid by this morning.

HIS ARM AMPUTATED.

Richard Honecutt, colored, of the Lumber Company, had the misfortune to lose his right arm yesterday morning. He was oiling the machinery while the saw was in motion and fell in the hole under the saw, it cutting off his right arm between the shoulder and elbow. Dr. W. E. McConville was summoned, and with the assistance of Dr. F. M. Morgan, the arm was amputated above where it was cut off. The man was taken to his home and is resting easy.

WANT A TELEGRAPH OFFICE.

The citizens of our town are very much in need of an express and telegraph office. The Town Fathers, two years ago offered an inducement to any one who would open such an office, a free license for the first year, and there is no doubt that the same offer is open to the proper person yet.

The Norfolk and Western has so generously convenience the public by opening a freight and passenger office. It is hoped that the company will continue its good work further and open the other mentioned and much-needed convenience.

THE MACCABEES.

Chesapeake Tent No. 11, Knights of the Maccabees, held her regular meeting last night in Elks Hall. A large number of the members were present and many visiting Sir Knights from Norfolk, Newport News and Portsmouth.
